Why would they do that? Didn't get enough support that you want?

You sir disapoint me. I've respected u for years, but teaming up with these people shocked me.

So, this topic was 'Dont use atomix forums' I've got a better idea. Don't fucking trust Blacky/MrNiceGuy.

Support for what? I didn't need support on a thing from anyone. It was a rage topic for myself, anything you all said inconsequential. There was only one person in this whole community whose words I wanted to see(it wasn't the trolls).

I have no idea what went on, or care really about the nick register thing. Childish looking, but easily undone.

So far these guys have been pretty cool to us "misfits" from Atomix. You bringing up the player count is kind of funny. We're all waiting on one thing...Campas mod.

Most have found other servers to play in and other games for the time being. The ones who will be in our community have even been playing in Ax still as well.

So you're going to attack me for what reason now Shadow/Azazel? How about you make your own topic, and stay the hell out of mine. These are totally separate issues.

Even though I'm probably going to get some form of shit for this, I might as well say this last as well. Take your *cheat name removed*and shove it right up your bum Shadow, you're the worst type of moderator around.
