Ty for finding this.

As spoony, ironwarrior flood3d and a few other players stated. Why would we want a cheater talking to us, when he makes our renegade experiance hell by creating cheats.. I strongly agree with Spoony on the point that if we did ban him then it'd show that we actually do care and are setting an example that we hate all cheaters..

To respond to Blazer's posts in the older thread: Why the hell would u want his help with anything, TT wouldn't even be needed if faggots like 0x90 wasn't making cheats.

I understand that Crimson has spent a hell of alot on Renegade and she clearly does care about the community, but I fail to see how having 0x90 on the forums is in any way beneficial, so what if he helped with a few RG problems. We wouldn't even need to use RG if faggots like him didn't create cheats for the game we love so much..sighs
