
Subject: Re: They Always Come Back To Renegade
Posted by Chuck Norris on Wed, 19 May 2010 09:33:24 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

FlaminGunz wrote on Wed, 12 May 2010 00:52welcome back to Renegade as what was said before me, its just a game we all like to play. Always intense, fun, competitive games to be played, both publicly and in commwars/rgct2 (plug lol)

i saw you in Exodus and played a few fun maps with you. Never seen you before but you were a cool guy ingame hope to see you ingame a bit more!

Yep, I'm open to playing at any servers besides the two I mentioned if there are enough players (don't like huge games, but don't like four players either). Exodus fill the bill at the time, and I've played there a few times before from what I recall.

I'm itching to play a game or two now, but my main PC is disassembled and in parts since I'm spending a day or two giving it a perhaps unneeded but regular cleaning, and the PC I'm on in the meantime (a Pentium III 1.4GHz, 1GB RAM, GeForce 4 Ti4200) doesn't run it very fast online. Ah, heck, I might just deal with less than perfect and jump online for a game or two after I eat...R315r4z0r wrote on Tue, 11 May 2010 22:20Renegade just has this absolute fun factor to it. No matter the circumstance, you can always have fun playing Renegade for at least one match.Yeah, was hoping I'd get infected with the magic to want to come back to it full time though. Still as much fun when I do fire it up though.
