0x90: ok i promise to not make another *cheat name removed*update that will destroy the game even further crowd: COOL you are my hero! your not so bad after all

Or rather, best not to piss him off too much because he could release far worse? We're in no position to combat his releases.

There should be online international laws imo that prevent faggots like 0x90 from making cheats, or if they do, they get fined.
i think there are certain laws that he might just be breaking, but i dont think anyone will actually care to make a case out of it, im not sure i could very well be wrong.
