
Subject: Re: Fanboy Thread #10 - Walkers vs Tanks
Posted by R315r4z0r on Thu, 20 May 2010 15:46:32 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

snpr1101 wrote on Sat, 15 May 2010 22:51 I was just browsing the forum as usual, saw the thread and yea, expressed my dislike for it; and it being bumped. Sure it wasn't of utmost importance, or 100% necessary to express my opinion, but how much of what's said here actually is?

I couldn't give two shits if you or anyone on this forum don't care about my opinion of it.

You realize that it was you and you alone who chose to enter the thread. You dislike what I said and yet you find it necessary to enter it and tell everyone you dislike it?

Big fucking deal, really. I don't know why I bothered to argue. Write something back so we can argue about it some more and make a mountain out of a molehill. I couldn't be fucked to reply if you did.

Ren forums needs more shit like this.

I'm not sure if you noticed, but I make these little poll questions every so often and people seem to actually care enough to put in their two cents on the subjects of the poll.

My goal is to start discussions on various random conflicting topics and from time to time it works.

By insulting the question, you're not adding anything to the conversation. It's a completely pointless gesture that only serves to hate and drive people away from a thread they may have found interesting to discuss.

I'm not saying that you don't have a right to an opinion. I'm saying use some common sense. There is a time and place to share opinions and a time and place to keep them to yourself. Now is the latter.

The only reason why you posted was to cause an argument. Whether you admit it or not. You just wanted people to react to you 'defiant outlook on the thread.' It's what they call trolling and it is annoying.
