Every game has someone creating cheats for it.
You can see it as the natural way for things to hapen.
(not saying I like it but it happens)

Also knowing Renegade for quiet some while now there are probably far worse things that could be created then The Cheat that should not be named. (Things like the old UDP bug)

No offence intended to EWD or Spooky, but shouldn't you two take your discussion elsewhere?
Since I really doubt that this discussion does any good for Renegade atm.

So my conclusion:
Enjoy the game for as long as it may last!
