i'm actually telling 0x90 what i really think about him... it's a shame you don't dare (though it's something worse than a shame that you're happy to call for a "spoony bashing" for the sole purpose of getting into 0x90's good books)

if more people took the time to publicly tell him what a wretched little turd he is, he might actually realise just how much damage he's done to this game. it's plainly obvious he does not realise that. look how many times he's asked why people are so mean to him... we're dealing with somebody of extraordinary stupidity here.

Or he might choose to take revenge. Will you take your responsibility when he does? I sure wouldn't want to.
