IceSword7I came back to get away from all the flaming morons on the clanwars forum. But when i got here i saw that there is the same if not more flaming on these forums then the CW ones.

that's the same where ever you go :/.

and you guys are wasting your time trying to get them to play. ACK and crim are ex-WL..it's in their nature to refuse matches. they've tried getting games vs noobstories before, no luck. tried getting wl to play at savage, no luck. it's just how it is.

whether they admit it or not, the game we're proposing WOULD be fun, but i guess they just fear that they would never hear the end of it if they lost, which is understandable..there are a lot of little kids in clan wars forums (im sure there are here, too).
