A lot of people believe that Germany have a really good chance of progressing beyond the last sixteen, which is true - but to me it seemed that Germany played around their average quality and Australia made them look good..

Overall, I enjoyed the game but couldn't help but feel sympathetic for the Aussie's - you got outplayed and outclassed, but I hope Ghana qualify second in your group.

Also, how the hell did Cameroon lose to Japan... My magical Eto'o didn't step up today, I am truly disappointed with him today.
