I used to have a unique setup with the arrow keys, but then I got a new keyboard that didn't let me keep the setup. I then reverted to WSAD, but I still have some modifications (such as I use the button 'Q' to change to my previous weapon and 'C' to change to my next. Shift is my crouch and my middle mouse button is used to walk.)

I feel like I used to play better with my original arrow key set up, but its not like it really matters anymore.
