It means it cannot be exploited by others, but also means it only contains your servers stats... And does also not contain a general rank for players who play in multiple servers...which is what the BHS ladder does.

You are simply reposting the same thing I said but in a different way :-/

However, I think it's important to mention that the BHS ladder is almost maningless if you are only interested in your rank itself, as it's extremely easy to exploit it.

Which is exactly what I said.....all I'm saying is that there should be a stable rank system for a player who plays in multiple servers. The BHS ladder is intended to do so, but as we both said - can easily be exploited.
