I haven't made any excuses toward playing a community vs. community game. As I've ALREADY stated, I am totally for it, but your problem lies in getting the rest of the community to play. Furthermore, this community are hardly "n00bs", especially given the broad usage of that term. To answer your other question: I'm 20.

Finally, the humour in this thread is based off the fact that many of you aren't responding to logic, then trying to justify it with "URA FUQIN NUBE 4 KNOT PLAYIN US".
