"even match" seems like another word for top 20 silver and "slightly favored" means gold league even though I'm 3rd place bronze..it's gonna take a while to become #1 as the other guys have had much more games than me. what's the point in being ranked as bronze when the game doesn't put me up against other bronze players anyway?

Give it time. The system was faster-acting during the beta but people felt it was too easy to get into Diamond, etc, so they slowed it down quite a bit since launch. Promotions still occur, just at a much slower pace.
