Try posting something useful (or atleast a legit rebuttal) or don't post at all.

Yes trooprm post something useful or nothing at all. If you have a way to detect something then share.

Is this the part where you now ask me for a 1v1 or n00b? If so please dont, you're too pr0 for me dude.

You don't play this game either, you not quit these forums too? And yes, posting publically relatively new detection methods is a great idea! Its why we have the Server Owners section, retard.

Thank god you have just posted the newest cheat detection method in that private forum!

..Not.

If you're trying to fool or trick 0x90, don't bother. You'll archieve nothing, and if you would happen to succeed (That is, if anyone actually believes your bluffing), what useful would that bring, except for your personal enjoyment?
