Paranormal Activity is such a pile of cinematic garbage it's not even funny. The concept of a camera based horror film has been done before, and much better (See: Blair Witch Project, [REC], Cloverfield). There are also PLENTY better horror series that are made for FREE online (Marble Hornets, LouisePaxton). Paranormal Activity is just a steaming pile of shit with two hardly believable characters in an extremely generic setting with horrible pacing, and any form of frightening aspect it may have is ruined when they review the tapes 3 fucking times over. It ruins it entirely.

That being said, that video's almost a year old. Good job.
