Quote:secondly, they were so angry at not getting their way ("their way" meaning they alone would make the decisions about the TT/BHS ladder) that they actively tried to sabotage it. i think they were mad that original points servers would be penalized and not held at the same value as pointmod servers, and that's why they said Fuck Spooky and fuck the TT ladder i don't remember them saying they wanted control of the ladder or anything like that

Quote:i think the original renegade points system westwood designed (i.e. pointsfix) is superior gameplay in every way to that fucking retarded bug/mod where you can get points for absolutely no reason (?!)

idk, games seem closer with the bugged points i have fun in both but it's definitely easier with the original points to gain income and use it against the enemy the enemy is more than welcome to do the same against me i do agree that the game is more fair with the pointmod, in terms of point distribution does it balance the game more? idk, i think it makes Nod do better more often than GDI in public servers more so than the original points is that a bad thing? depends on your perspective

Quote:i do not, however, think the original ladder system westwood designed is ideal at all. i can vastly improve upon it.

so, "it's what westwood intended" is by no means the beginning and the end of the argument. they did a fine job designing the points system, they did a pathetic job designing the ladder. like i said, if i didn't say that now i'd almost certainly be saying it later.

who's saying the westwood ladder is the best way to rank renegade? it's a stupid argument we have the chance now to make one that's far more in-depth than theirs had a chance to be you rant entirely too much about how bad of people simpee and clearsh0t are it had nothing to do with anything in this case and i've heard it all before and i thought i covered this in my post

Quote:firstly, as to which you allude, they were too stupid to see that the move was yet another compromise in their direction, in spite of the fact nobody on their side would ever budge an inch the other way.

either they're so biased against you at this point for whatever reason or reasons that they completely ignore the fact that you're trying to do something in their favor, or they don't think that that's good enough and feel original points should count as much as the pointmod it's their opinion; it doesn't have to match yours or make any sense

Quote:their goal was to impose their own opinion upon someone else's ladder project, with no regard at all for debate or "democracy" or the rights of the people who owned it, and the method by which they tried to do it was one of the most dishonest things this game has ever seen. some people are closed-minded, and they have the right to be what did they do that was so dishonest? tell lies about past things you did or something completely unrelated? i don't even remember, but it seems much more important to you than it does to me

i'm just gonna throw this out there, i'm not sure renegade would be around or still living if the pointmod had been the original point system
