x50c3nt Every time any of you open your mouths it just proves me right.

And what point is this, again? That we're all "n00bs"? LOL. You cannot make a point based on a word which doesn't exist. Nor does the jargon definition of that word put [most of] us into that category.

It would help your case alot if you simply stopped replying, because you are quite consistant in your refusal to respond to logic.
