Hitman wrote on Mon, 15 November 2010 08:18i dont really care much for this game anymore, it was just really funny how you were trying to prove your bullshit multiple times in a row, i just think your cocky as fuck... that's all

i'm just telling it how it is, you're the one constantly changing the subject and desperately trying to avoid conceding a relatively minor and inoffensive (to anyone except the stereotypical clanwars player, at least) point.

Quote:all the things u spit out in this topic remains an opinion, that quite frankly just about ... no one at all shares with you.

the fact that i win the overwhelming majority of public servers whereas you and simpee don't is a fact. the fact that both of you feel you need to make excuses for that while i don't is a fact. the fact that i'm obviously much better leader material has a lot of track record behind it. the fact that i often galvanise inexperienced teammates into doing the effective strategies is a fact while people like you and simpee bitch at them or just leave, that's a fact (and you seem to think it works for your side of the argument, amazingly... i would expect something that stupid from simpee, but not you)

Quote:and kill was better than me, you however... no you miss the point. people had to make themselves feel better about the fact kill > them by saying exactly the same things you're saying about me now. you can't just acknowledge someone's better than you... they're trying too hard, you're not trying, the good players have all left, blah blah blah...

meanwhile you laugh at anyone who isn't as good as you, how pathetic can you get?

Quote:jeez spoony your the only one left on this game that even cares enough to lead public people to victory but yeah great job...

there you have it ^^

Quote:u were never even near the best at clanwars actually most people at clanwars did think i was "near" the best, even though since become an admin i've hardly ever played all that competitively. you yourself would have DEFINITELY put me near the top if someone had asked you last week. now you're so angry at what i've said about public servers that your judgement is being clouded.

like i said, just calm down... this shouldn't upset you as much as it obviously does. if the game's dead and nobody cares, why are you so obviously unnerved? if who's the best isn't important, why have you tried so hard to prove it's simpee when it obviously isn't?
