when i go to the xwis.net/control_panel all i can do is login to the strike-team.net site. how do i see my nicks and serials? and when i was on there i did hit 'password reset' so is that why it says password invalid in the message? when i reinstalled renegade yesterday and it said choose a nick to play online with my name 'limewire3' was still there. i entered my old password and everything worked. but then i tried to play online and i get that same error message as before.
