alirght i got on my control pannel again but whats up with the serials. when i looked under my serials none of them match to me game. heres the thing i entered 3 serials and there are all there but when i entered them on the site they turned into different numbers. im pretty sure those serials are mine but how come the numbers changed? like after i typed in the whole serial and hit 'add serial' the number that was added wasnt even on the case. i see a reset password on there so what do i do with it and how do i use it? do i renistall renegade and type in that password?
