It happens 1/3 games for me. The only actual advatange/disadvantage it brings is that sometimes the other team can end up seeing his credit amount.

The gray name "ghost" bug is even more of a pain in the ass tbh....it happens when a player direct connects to a server he is already in, while using the same nickname. He joins with a grey name after doing so, and other players who direct-connected cannot see his points, credits, kills, deaths, etc.
