I seriously check once a week every forum here to see how the community is doing and all you guys are doing is whining about when it should be done?

For f's sake.

Either grow a pair of C++ balls and help, or shut the hell up and go back to modding/playing.

I have 2..possibly 2.5 projects riding on 4.0, coding takes time.

I work for the #3 leading software company in the U.S. we have deadlines but also the company understands that coding is dynamic and TAKES TIME> so stfu.
