mudkips we appreciate your intentions and of course id love to see another tournament but you ask the people who organised both RGCT's.... its not easy lol

As nikki said, BlueBala, if your interested (i dont know whether youv even heard of RGCT). But there were two large rene tournaments in 2009 and 2010 that included somewhere between 10-15 communities and each spanned over several months.

Myself, Tiesto, nikki and a small team of people organised the 2010 tournament, despite the cheating-related issues, we did get alot of matches going.

so if you are interested, send me a pm and i can give you access to the forums where the tournament was hosted, so you can see the kinds of issues we dealt with.
