The admission was a private message to someone he was close to that probably knew that person would be losing total respect for.

That person confidentially shared it with St0rm staff.

I realize you trust us when we tell you he admitted it and seeing his typed words would give some satisfaction. However I respect the person that shared the admission with us so I want to ask that person 1st if it is ok to share publicly as well as Wilo himself. So sit tight I will get that done over this weekend. Catching Wilo is a rough one, I only see him late at night when he gets into bed.
LOL

EDIT: Bradley if you want to share your message, feel free too. I'm just not sharing Kick's unless he says it is ok.
