There are no techs/hotwirs repairing the tanks.

It's basically a test of who is the best tanker as during this fight under the bridge, they may have to jump out and repair quickly while using the drums and what not for cover.

That's what hitman said....while one is out repairing, the other will slowly be killing his med, or splashing the hell out of hotwire...either way, one will win.

ah got it.

If both are really good, then it might take a while imhno.
