
Subject: C&C Canyon Modified Realeased
Posted by IceSentry on Sun, 09 Mar 2003 18:21:04 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Quote:That's not arrogance, dumbass.

He's posted this topic over fifteen times - the first five times being about the beta version of a map he had nothing to do with, just adding vehicles that already exist... Making it over 50 MB?

People know it's crap, they've told him that, yet he refuses to listen and continues to post it.

Try figuring out the history of something before you go calling others arrogant... Because that's exactly what you look like right now. :rolleyes:

You are arrogant. Period. He's posted over 15 times??? Maybe a minor exaggeration. His post count only adds up to 8. Who doesn't know there history now?

You think you are special huh? Well your not. People have to start somewhere. Just like you, exept when some people have lots of knowlage about somthing they don't shove it in other peoples faces, to make them feel like there scum of the earth. And he started by making a worthless mod. Did that hurt anyone? NO. Did that warrent a post like you made ACK? NO. You need to go to temper management classes or somthing, cause you have some serious mental problems.

I'm sorry to inform you ACK, but yes YOUR SHIT DOES STINK, AND IT's the most grotesque smell I ever seen. As far as I'm concered, your one of the many scums of the earth. I've seen how you treated people in this forum, the renalert forum, and in the n00bstories chat and many other places. You act like you feel it's your job to put down those who deserve it, and those who don't deserve it. Well, it's not your job. You have a very bad attitude towards other people, and I don't like it, and alot of other people don't like it either. I don't give a shit wat you do for the Renegade community, what do we owe you something? None of us owe you a damn fucking thing. You donate your own time yourself for the renegade community, we don't ask you to, therefore, once again, we don't owe you a damn bit.

I'd like to see you lighten up on people a little, give some people a break, granted they may not know as much as you do in making mods, or wiping there ass as you do, but you should treat people they way you would want to be treated. This world needs more of those kinds of people then, arrogant assholes such as yourself. And I don't speak out of opinion, THAT IS FACT.

Who looks like the arrogant one now? You. Lighten up kid.
