I hate minecraft, the creator ripped off a mod called Infiniminer (or one of the other mods like it) and then became a millionaire before it has even made its first release. The game itself is pretty half assed, most of the new features are being made by the mod community before the creator adds them in to the actual game.

But whatever, I guess sometimes you make a pile of shit and everyone loves it and you get rich for it.

He was just lucky no one saw the free Infiniminer mod (or standalone mods like) or else his java shit game wouldn't have made a dollar (well it would have, but not a million for sure).
