Dave78742, is it possible that windows firewall is blocking some stuff for the 4.0 install but not for your 3.4 install? I get exactly the same behavior with "Negotiating firewall" for both. It may take a while to complete. It takes a few seconds for me, but when the servers are down/unreachable, it may take a few dozen seconds. Eventually it should complete. When you cancel it, it usually completes in the background, and you still have to wait for it to join the next server but you will not see the window again.

The mangler servers can be down even if you can join fine, btw. They are only necessary in some router/NAT configurations.

Taz, can you contact me on IM (details in my forum profile) or IRC (irc.blackintel.org or irc.n00bstories #blackintel)?
