Hey guys, im in the process of setting up the biggest downloads site dedicated to Command And Conquer.

Ok i know what you are thinking.. "oh great another fansite" - "cncammo already has a load of downloads"

Its not a fansite, i dislike the majority of fansites, not the people who make them, or the style, but the approach, its all copy and paste and 'community news' - The only fansites are visit reguarly are CCU for there different approach to what WS/EAP have done/did/and were about to. And RenGen Cos i respect his site, and he is always looking to get exclusive content.

And yes CnC Ammo has a lot of files, but they dont have the bandwidth, that i can provide, ie its not hosted by gayspy and you dont have to que. n/o to the site, or the webbies.

The games we are concentrating on are RA2/Yuri - Renegade - and Generals. I already have a team for RA2/Yuri and Generals. But we need a team for Renegade.

The site idea, to be a huge collective of files, for easy access, easy to find, and very fast downloads.

When i say we need a team, i dont mean modders, developers etc.. at this moment in time we need people who can write, All the backend coding is done, we need people who can write information on all the files, mostly maps. We dont wanna lift information from the ReadMe, cos there is no point having a great site, the files we need, and the just slap the readme on there, which really only gives a brief on the map. Dont look good eh?

We already have around 100 maps uploaded, and 400 skins, im also offering to host mods like - Renegade Alert and CnCReborn for free.

If you would like to help, please email me england@radiantx.net for infomation, or join #shock on irc.radiantx.net and ask either Shock or Myself for info.
