lol Where exactly is the threat? Do you even know how to read? If so, you'd realize exactly what I was talking about, and that there was nothing more than a statement made, no threats whatsoever. I get so tired of having to explain my words to uneducated people, when my words speak for themselves.

So many people have nothing better to do than to post their opinions on a topic in which they have absolutely no idea of what their talking about, and to put words in someones mouth. By the time these uneducated, problem makers get done posting, nobody even remembers what the real topic is about, or what was said.

What this game has become is pathetic, along with a lot of the people that now inhabit it's servers...sad really.

For future reference, read before you post and make yourself like like an idiot.

My original post is nothing more than a statement, as well as a fact.
