Ha ha, i now have 4 x 1TB drives split equally into 4 partitions of approx 232GB. So yeah, a lot!

Had 2 drives for XP and bought 2 more for Win7. Was originally going to have a dual boot system but havent set it up yet. May do that for Ren since this audio thing isnt working out. I have the D3D and EAX back but the A3D is the one i need. D3D is too loud on SFX and too quiet on Voices/Cinematics. Volume controls dont have much effect. The EAX I+II reverb just sounds bad with headphones.

Another option is to plug in my X-fi card again and use Creative Alchemy. Didnt really want to do that though as i thought the onboard Realtek sounded better than the X-fi!!! Also its a tight fit with the only PCIe slot free being the one in between my 2 560ti SLI cards.
