As stated in the other topic: The server listing does not work properly at all

I randomly get crashes saying something bad happened and to copy it on the forum though I got told to ignore those and I can't copy them anyway unless I take the time to ss them.
Sometimes I "alt tab" out with those messages but am still able to go on without having to restart my renegade, though they will become more frequent after a while

Sometimes (2 times now) I get a horrible horrible lag spike followed by my entire laptop figuratively blowing up, everything goes dark and when I try to reboot I get stuck in a blue screen of death reboot loop which I have luckily been able to fix

I get horrible fps drops whenever I enter an orca (not apache)

The doppelgangers seem to have multiplied by at least 10, these people are running in a straight line when they aren't actually there (imagine gameplay pending but only on one dude) and I'm able to kill them (which I often do out of reflex before I realise they aren't really there). I found out I'm able to reproduce this effect easily on field-ts when standing at the nod bunker (gdi will appear to just walk out of their base)

The autodownloader has some hickups on a few maps. Field-ts and tropic...something especially. It loads the map since I have them, decides I don't have them and downloads 0kb, loads the map halfway and crashes my renegade. I am able to join again after this without problems.

edit: Forgot about one. I got kicked by the TT anti-cheat for a file that apparently adds itself and removes itself after I closed renegade. It only happened once and got fixed after a simple restart. Note: My renegade is as clean as a fresh install apart from the maps and scripts. I do not use any skins nor have I ever used some.
