regardless of what I post or the reason seems the sheep come out with the lies about ddossing or cheats these guys really need to open their eyes . and believe all they hear and look at the facts. and look for the truth. and stop kissing ass .

pains me to say this but eike-dj-eye-k is right tt 4.0 really sucks and is not ready for release to the public.

this file is really killing the game we love . watch your selves as you see the player numbers fall week by week.

I gave it a try and it sucks the endless having to remove files or upload others along with the lag and crashes in game.

3.44 with rr worked fine and had all we need im back to that and advise you to all do the same.

now if you check most of the post against this will be by people who wrote 4.0 or mods who approve it .

MDK - You do realise that as it stands TT(4.0) is currently in a BETA stage so it would only be normal for people to crash. The files you have now are not the finish product.

If you're having crashes then do the decent thing and upload the crash dumps (my documents/renegade/client/debug/*latest_crashdump) so we can fix the issue.

Complaining about things but not helping to fix it doesn't help anyone.
