oh noes that's right...I just see the core temp now! So that's why the fan's gone crazy. I will change the slider to around 60-75% as you suggested. So this is a problem with the card..hmm...will I be okay to do this from now on without causing any damage in the long term?

btw, I have 2 new cards lying around that somehow ended up with me. They are both NVIDIA 9400GT 1 GB. Is it a good idea to just dump this card and replace it?
