err yeah unless the ladder system is shit like renegade's being ranked #1 of the world and being a member of the clan ranked #1 or #2 is skill compared to more than 100,000 other players. i've played this game for 10 hours or so and the players are really clueless in this game, in the end i had 3.0KD with a shitty ass tier 3 light tank. it'd probably be fun playing clanwars if it werent for the fact that unlike in the normal game mode, in clanwars you can use any tier tanks, so you'd have to play half a year to get the decent tanks. basically plays like some shitty rpg game where you have to grind instead of use skill.
