Yeah it sucks when up close against an arty but from a distance, like on field from entrance to entrance my MRLS usually outbeats a arty purely down to 6 lock.

that's if you get an arty one on one in a game where there's, say, 15 players on the other team you may not get that opportunity a teched arty will beat a hotwired mrls in a war of attrition

such is renelife

You're kidding right?

A good mrls player > a good arty player, in terms of killing the support if you know how to aim the mrls properly.
