If only you lost it, and your PC did not, there's no problem. We try several locations to find the serial number and if we can't, only then we ask the user to enter it. If the installer did not show the "please enter your serial" screen, then your serial was found by TT. In general, it should work for everyone who was able to play on WOL before they installed TT, and for some who were not able to play on WOL on a best-effort basis.

You can skip past that message, in fact, it's just a status message, nothing the user is requested to act on.
