Not wanting to start a war (Again) I would personally like to hear from ACK about the RenAlert Mod. When will it be released? Last time I looked the site was down 'cause the owner pulled the plug. I heard that they were looking for another site. I'd like to know where it is.

(Now the lecture) ACK you have a reputation for doing great work. Most - if not all of us - have played on your maps at one time or another. Perhaps a bit of encouragement for other mappers and modders would be in order rather than slamming everyone else. In my humble opinion slamming everyone only belittles yourself and your accomplishments. I know two mappers who - whilst relatively new to the business - have produced some pretty good maps. Neither one has a good word to say for you. I find that rather sad.
