StealthEye wrote on Sat, 19 November 2011 20:15Can someone who uses Norton please test whether the false positive is indeed gone with the updated definitions? Though that is, when the next update is available, because I the releases seem to date before the 16th. (For the record, I got the same e-mail back from them the 18th.)

I had to repeat download scripts 4.0 each time I played as Nortons removed it each time, but as of now, no problem.
