Havoc_eliteDid you ever had a dream where you thought about: I will do ANYTHING to make this dream come true! It makes you really depressed because you know it will never happen? You know that feeling?

I'm having it right now, I was in my bed a few nights ago when I thought of this really cool thing (Cool for me) which I'm not gonna tell since you all gonna laugh your ass off at me.

But anyway, I'm feeling really fucked because I know this dream will never come true :nervous:

I actually have had a dream like that... I won't share it though. I also had one where somehow I went to another earthlike planet where they parked in the middle of the street. actually, come to think of it, I have had some really bizarre dreams...
