That might change over time. TBH I really wonder what will happen.

ATM it is still in BETA and tbh I've never seen a BETA that was really close to the final version.

I must add that it has some interesting features like up to 9 people video/voice chat. (Now some of you might come to me and say SKYPE! but for more then 1 on 1, you have to pay )

Also, from all of these I think I trust Google+ most. Though trust and the internet doesn't really go hand in hand all that well imo
