This has not changed in years, but when your Harvester is dumping off money, you can hear your credits rising incrementally. Sometimes your money increases at this ACTUALLY happens, most of the time, despite hearing that sweet sound of Tiberium being refined, it's not until the unloading process is done, that you receive your money.

Can it be fixed so that your money is available to you, WHILE it's being processed?

I can't tell you how many times I've been waiting to purchase something, as a building is being destroyed, and not having the money to do so until it's too late. Thanks!
