Personally I can't wait for Rebirth to come out as a lot of the new concepts look pretty awesome and I don't think the whole 'one ship' thing is really that big of a deal since you can remote pilot drones.

I'm fine with the one ship thing, it's just that I expected to see more AI battles going on then what I have. I'm sure if I figured out how to build, and got some good ships setup it'd be a lot of fun, however I have the good luck of grabbing missions that stick me into combat against ships that surpass my own, and always end up getting owned.
