Spoony wrote on Mon, 20 February 2012 14:21he's a complete sociopath

he seriously thinks he's the victim or something...

in a nutshell: wilo repeatedly attacks another community's servers, consistently lies about the fact hes doing so and tries to get other people blamed for it, eventually makes a dishonest partial confession when he thinks its too late to do anything else, turns out to be lying about that... as a result, people call him a mean lady (which he is) and he now thinks the bad guys in the equation are the ones who object to what he did and bluntly tell him so

btw he acted the exact same way when he cheated in a commwar... initially denied it and tried to get other ppl into trouble by acting like he was being "framed", then once some proof surfaced he eventually made a partial admission "yeah ok i cheated a little bit but only for the last few minutes on the last map" which later became all the time on every map

but we at renegadeforums are worse, we cause "drama" (i.e. when people like him do what they do, we call them what they are in response, which is much worse than hacking other communities etc in wilo's howling wilderness of a mind)

Couldn't have put it better myself.

Wilo, I never had a problem with you personally, but wow you're an asshole. I thought all the "heresay" about you ddosing n00bstories and n00bless but ddosing Jelly a community that you're linked with as well? That's lower than low. Go play with your friends at the DoD, I hope Crimson finally bans you from here now.

liquidv2have you ever told your community that you've, in the past, stolen donation funds for the server and bought things for yourself? or that you made up the entire MDK cheating situation just to get him banned from other servers? or that you host funwars in st0rm's name and then use server commands to help your team and cheat on every single map? or that you delinked the Jelly network from irc because Iran told you jelly mods talk shit about you? and that you then claimed you had jelly spies on the inside that showed you screenshots of the mod section which was your basis for removing us? you claimed you did it because "you don't like our attitude" idk dude, how would you feel about a guy that was openly flooding your servers for months on end and continuously lying to your face about it? and the mod section thing was false; i would know, i'm in there i'm willing to bet you're full-out lying you want to do the best thing you possibly can for your community? leave it alone, let more honest people run it no server owner should have to apologize for shitting on his or her community's name by attacking other servers and lying about it for months

I take a quote from liquidv2 at st0rm forums, I'd like to request that he's unbanned at Jelly and Renforums following this. As I've always known that he is innocent.

It's true that he's evaded, but I can't blame the chap as he's had so much bs thrown at him, I feel sorry for you Simon.

All the best, Sean.
