Yet?

If the threats are all you've done - which ljbh they aren't - they alone are enough to prove what was it you said in that miserable excuse for a "truth" thread? you want it all to go away so you can move on? doesn't sound to me like making threats like that is a serious attempt to move on?

answer my question, you think your parents would be proud of you? i really hope for your sake you don't act in real life like you do on the internet - but then again you obviously don't, cos if you did you'd probably be in prison or something just gonna repeat this bit again
