we know thats not going to happen dude ..

but do you agree the actions now being done to storm players are the right thing to do.

we did nothing wrong and are being punished for his actions.

as you said in your post one persons actions spoilt games for hundreds of players .

do you think if in the end that these actions kill storm serv that all the players will not seek out the persons who did this and attack ..

I hope this way will end as the outcome will not be fun for all servers.

killing storm is affecting players not wilo. if you have a problem with him then attack him not his players and team .

you all know there is no love between wilo and myself.

so my post is not just for him its for all the guys who can not game and the ppl on his team .
