Where was the vote by the community for this, or was it just a select few server owners? I'm failing to see how him ddos'ing a server equals attacking Xwis/WOL itself. I can see if he denied use to just Xwis, but he didn't.

There's been quite a few server owners over the years flooding other servers, some of your prominent people here.

If you're going to go that route of "what's best for the Renegade community", then someone like you shouldn't be running these forums. There was that whole 'stealing peoples passwords here and using them against Exodus' a few years back. That gives this place a really bad rep.

One last bit of disturbing stuff to read is this: [19:02:55] <@Crimson> I'm sure you'll never go for it, but if Wilo steps down, transfers all of his data, scripts, etc over to my caretaking, I will let you guys run it and not stand in the way.
