You made a good point Warranto... Engineers don't make enough points unless you attack buildings with them. It's frustrating to see yourself at the bottom of the scoreboard when you know that your team would have lost if it wasn't for you placing proxy mines and such. Also, although you get a steady stream of points for repairing buildings, you get almost no points for repairing vehicles - you only get credits. If you care about your rank there isn't much of an incentive to be an engineer repairing tanks on the front line
