if hitler or osama opened a game server with no strings attached and the gameplay was fun, would I play on it? The answer is Yes

So you would play on a server hosted by Hitler or Osama Bin Laden? Wow. Thank you for confirming what we already knew: You're an immoral imbecile. And that goes for anyone at st0rm that agrees with your analogy. And that's exactly why nobody gives a shit about st0rm closing. It's actually quite entertaining.

I hope for your sake every other community can show you what st0rm has yet to show; maturity - when you people play your last game. Cause would that not be a bitter taste of your own medicine when that game gets flooded until you give up? Oh, that's right, I forgot... you have nothing to do with that. Well if I find out it's Osama who's flooding you I'll be sure not to play his server nevertheless, even though it's so fun to play there.

Am I getting a point across now or are you just gonna play the "me no nottin - me just playa" card?
