Good replies so far and an interesting data population to date. I truly expected to see a heavier weighting at the release date for "The first decade", and certainly didn't expect as many betas as there seem to be.

Hopefully they will throw a .jpg up showing the beta bling.

I was inspired to reload ren into my newer win 7 machine this week and finally got it running after spending a good amount of time finding the latest scripts 4, CP2 and XWIS /Strike Team registration. I think dental surgery would have been more pleasant, but now it's done and I am back in.
